Examples of wording to send to customers /clients / participants

Example wording for a Spectrum report:

Please visit www.EvaluationStore.com and towards the top right of the home page there is a box to insert a code – cut and paste the code XXXXXXXXXX into that box (with no additional spaces – a common error!). This will take you to the correct evaluation. You are asked to input a given security number (to ensure that you are a person and not a computer) and then the statements appear one by one – click on the ‘button’ you think most appropriate.

Please complete it in one go without interruption (it has a ‘timeout’ mechanism – so if the screen stays still for a minute, you are ejected and your work lost). When prompted select FULL report (the code makes it free of charge to you). When prompted for your name – the report will produce your name exactly as you state it – so we always recommend first name and surname. It will then ask you for the e-mail address you want the report sent to. These reports are usually sent from EvaluationStore within 4 minutes. How long it takes to get to your in-box is dependent on a variety of factors including your IT set up.

If for any reason the report does not arrive, alert me by e-mail telling me the name you input – I can chase it. Fortunately this is a rare (>1%) occurrence.

Example wording for a High Performing Team report:

Please may I ask you to complete an on-line assessment about your team? It is anonymous, takes only 5 minutes and you get a copy of your (and only your) results. I get a consolidated, but anonymous report at the end. The report asks you to click and drag 20 statements into boxes which represent your assessment of your team – please put them where you really feel your team is.

Please log onto www.EvaluationStore.com and towards the top right there is a box for a code. Please cut & paste XXXXXXXXXX into that box (with no additional spaces) – this is the report only for your team. You are asked to input a given security number (to ensure that you are a person and not a computer) and then the statements appear one by one – click and drag. Please complete it in one go without interruption (it has a ‘timeout’ mechanism – so if the screen stays still for a minute, you are ejected and your work lost).

At the end, it asks for the e-mail address to send your own version of the report to. It does not store this e-mail address, so you will not get future spam!
